THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,
CASH CAPITAL OVER - - $1,900,000

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

Insurance against loss or damage by fire, on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

DAILY GAZETTE.

O. JENNINGS WISE A SPY.—The New York Commercial Advertiser publishes several very interesting letters from its correspondent, accompanying the Burnside expedition, from which we quote the following:

DARING OF THE REBEL SPIES.—A flag of truce from Elizabeth City with a communication from Gen. Wise, in relation to the remains of his son, Captain O. Jennings Wise, arrived to-day Feb. 10. The body had been interred with those of several other dead rebels, and was disinterred by a number of the first battalion, 5th Rhode Island volunteers, directed by Captain Eddy, and delivered to his friends and removed to Elizabeth City. An incident during the disinterment of the remains of Captain Wise throws some light on the spy system of the rebels, and illustrates the character of this bold and unscrupulous man.

As the body was disinterred and the soil brushed from the face, several of the Rhode Islanders exclaimed, "See here, Captain, this is the old cuss that sold us paper and envelopes at Annapolis." Capt. Eddy scrutinized the features of the dead captain and acknowledged the identity of the performer in these two characters. The men stated that on the day of their departure from the naval school grounds at Annapolis, an apparently old man, rather shabbily dressed, appeared within the grounds about the time they were busily engaged in striking their tents, selling letter paper and envelopes bearing showy Union devices. They were amused by the peculiar appearance of the man and his inquisitiveness. He asked them where they were going, when they were going, and how many of them there were, which questions they were, of course, unable to answer. Major Wright came up soon after and urged the men to use all possible speed in completing their preparations to embark. They replied that they were having a little fun with the "old chap" who was selling them paper.

That Captain Wise was in Annapolis, and within the naval school grounds about the time of the departure of the Burnside expedition, I have not the slightest doubt, nor have the officers who recognized in his remains the old paper seller. It is such an adventure as a man of his well known daring would be likely to undertake, the more especially as the destination of the expedition was pretty well known to General Wise, who was in command of the department of North Carolina. There was a double incentive for Gov. Wise's son to ascertain the force to be opposed to his father.

Several others among the captured prisoners were recognized by our soldiers, who had purchased various articles from them. One in particular, who had sold illustrations of the public buildings of Baltimore folded in the form of a rose, was recognized among the prisoners, and was asked by our men if he had "any more roses of Baltimore to sell." Lieut. Richter, of the 25th Massachusetts, recognized in Lieut. Selden, who was killed inside the breastwork on the 8th, a man from whom he purchased a silver watch at Camp Hicks, near Annapolis. Selden represented himself to be a Baltimorean, and was engaged in selling various articles of jewelry. This is perhaps the most effective source of information the rebels possess.

WHO IS THE DISLOYAL OFFICER?—One of the editors of the Transcript, while in Chicago last week, paid a visit to the rebel prisoners at Camp Douglas. During his stay in camp he overheard a subordinate Union officer deliberately state to a group of the prisoners that this war was the work of northern fanatics, and they must be "cleaned out" before peace could be restored. The name of this scoundrel we do not know, but he is a worse enemy of the republic than any rebel prisoner at Camp Douglas. What stronger assurance of sympathy could be given than the declaration that northern men drove the south into rebellion? Better send to Jeff. Davis for half a dozen rebel missionaries, and turn them loose among the prisoners with full license to say just what they please. Their words could not do more harm to our side than the words of this traitor in federal livery. They would have less influence, for they would be looked upon as coming from men interested in promoting rebellion. No wonder the people of Chicago are astonished at the growing boldness and impudence of the prisoners. Why should not the rebels exult in their treason when they are openly justified in it by our own officers?—Peoria Transcript.

AN INCIDENT AT FORT DONELSON.—Col. Kinney, of the 56th Ohio, related one of those strange and melancholy incidents which the fortunes of war sometimes bring to pass. As he was riding along the breastworks a day or two after the surrender, and while many of the dead were still unburied, he observed before him a private in his regiment, named Bowman, strolling along. As he came up he noticed the latter start back as if transfixed, at the sight of a body before him. Approaching him, the colonel asked him what surprised him, and added that he supposed he would have become accustomed to seeing dead bodies by this time.—Turning to his inquirer, with an expression on his face such as only a discovery like this could produce, and pointing to the body he replied: "Colonel, that is my brother!" His brother had been a resident of Tennessee, and had joined the confederate army, but he had no knowledge of his whereabouts, or thought of his being one of the victims of the bloody conflict, until he thus accidentally stumbled across his body.

THE MONITOR AND MERRIMAC.—The most distinguished naval officers are by no means sanguine that the Merrimac is so badly hurt that she cannot again come out and attack our fleet. But such a plan of operations has been adopted as will result in her complete discomfiture when she shall make the attempt. We are not at liberty to disclose the plans adopted, but those wiseacres who insist that the Merrimac can grapple the Monitor and tow her into Norfolk harbor with the ease that a giant Baldwin locomotive could drag a milk train, will surely be disappointed. The little David in her annointed strength, will smite the monster and utterly destroy her. So let your merchants and underwriters possess their souls in peace.—Phil. Inquirer.

AMOUNT OF FOOD REQUIRED TO PRODUCE ONE POUND OF FLESH.—To produce one pound of flesh, in fattening stock, it is calculated to take the consumption of either 100 pounds of turnips, 50 pounds of potatoes, 25 pounds of milk, 9 pounds of oat meal, 8 pounds of barley meal, 7 pounds of bread, the same quantity of flour, 3 pounds of peas, or nearly 4 pounds of beans.

GREAT REDUCTION
—IN—The Prices
—OF—
SINGER & CO.'S
STANDARD MACHINES,

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $75.

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the word for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE,

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two-fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,
CASH CAPITAL OVER - - $1,900,000

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

Insurance against loss or damage by fire, on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

DAILY GAZETTE.

O. JENNINGS WISE A SPY.—The New York Commercial Advertiser publishes several very interesting letters from its correspondent, accompanying the Burnside expedition, from which we quote the following:

DARING OF THE REBEL SPIES.—A flag of truce from Elizabeth City with a communication from Gen. Wise, in relation to the remains of his son, Captain O. Jennings Wise, arrived to-day Feb. 10. The body had been interred with those of several other dead rebels, and was disinterred by a number of the first battalion, 5th Rhode Island volunteers, directed by Captain Eddy, and delivered to his friends and removed to Elizabeth City. An incident during the disinterment of the remains of Captain Wise throws some light on the spy system of the rebels, and illustrates the character of this bold and unscrupulous man.

As the body was disinterred and the soil brushed from the face, several of the Rhode Islanders exclaimed, "See here, Captain, this is the old cuss that sold us paper and envelopes at Annapolis." Capt. Eddy scrutinized the features of the dead captain and acknowledged the identity of the performer in these two characters. The men stated that on the day of their departure from the naval school grounds at Annapolis, an apparently old man, rather shabbily dressed, appeared within the grounds about the time they were busily engaged in striking their tents, selling letter paper and envelopes bearing showy Union devices. They were amused by the peculiar appearance of the man and his inquisitiveness. He asked them where they were going, when they were going, and how many of them there were, which questions they were, of course, unable to answer. Major Wright came up soon after and urged the men to use all possible speed in completing their preparations to embark. They replied that they were having a little fun with the "old chap" who was selling them paper.

That Captain Wise was in Annapolis, and within the naval school grounds about the time of the departure of the Burnside expedition, I have not the slightest doubt, nor have the officers who recognized in his remains the old paper seller. It is such an adventure as a man of his well known daring would be likely to undertake, the more especially as the destination of the expedition was pretty well known to General Wise, who was in command of the department of North Carolina. There was a double incentive for Gov. Wise's son to ascertain the force to be opposed to his father.

Several others among the captured prisoners were recognized by our soldiers, who had purchased various articles from them. One in particular, who had sold illustrations of the public buildings of Baltimore folded in the form of a rose, was recognized among the prisoners, and was asked by our men if he had "any more roses of Baltimore to sell." Lieut. Richter, of the 25th Massachusetts, recognized in Lieut. Selden, who was killed inside the breastwork on the 8th, a man from whom he purchased a silver watch at Camp Hicks, near Annapolis. Selden represented himself to be a Baltimorean, and was engaged in selling various articles of jewelry. This is perhaps the most effective source of information the rebels possess.

WHO IS THE DISLOYAL OFFICER?—One of the editors of the Transcript, while in Chicago last week, paid a visit to the rebel prisoners at Camp Douglas. During his stay in camp he overheard a subordinate Union officer deliberately state to a group of the prisoners that this war was the work of northern fanatics, and they must be "cleaned out" before peace could be restored. The name of this scoundrel we do not know, but he is a worse enemy of the republic than any rebel prisoner at Camp Douglas. What stronger assurance of sympathy could be given than the declaration that northern men drove the south into rebellion? Better send to Jeff. Davis for half a dozen rebel missionaries, and turn them loose among the prisoners with full license to say just what they please. Their words could not do more harm to our side than the words of this traitor in federal livery. They would have less influence, for they would be looked upon as coming from men interested in promoting rebellion. No wonder the people of Chicago are astonished at the growing boldness and impudence of the prisoners. Why should not the rebels exult in their treason when they are openly justified in it by our own officers?—Peoria Transcript.

AN INCIDENT AT FORT DONELSON.—Col. Kinney, of the 56th Ohio, related one of those strange and melancholy incidents which the fortunes of war sometimes bring to pass. As he was riding along the breastworks a day or two after the surrender, and while many of the dead were still unburied, he observed before him a private in his regiment, named Bowman, strolling along. As he came up he noticed the latter start back as if transfixed, at the sight of a body before him. Approaching him, the colonel asked him what surprised him, and added that he supposed he would have become accustomed to seeing dead bodies by this time.—Turning to his inquirer, with an expression on his face such as only a discovery like this could produce, and pointing to the body he replied: "Colonel, that is my brother!" His brother had been a resident of Tennessee, and had joined the confederate army, but he had no knowledge of his whereabouts, or thought of his being one of the victims of the bloody conflict, until he thus accidentally stumbled across his body.

THE MONITOR AND MERRIMAC.—The most distinguished naval officers are by no means sanguine that the Merrimac is so badly hurt that she cannot again come out and attack our fleet. But such a plan of operations has been adopted as will result in her complete discomfiture when she shall make the attempt. We are not at liberty to disclose the plans adopted, but those wiseacres who insist that the Merrimac can grapple the Monitor and tow her into Norfolk harbor with the ease that a giant Baldwin locomotive could drag a milk train, will surely be disappointed. The little David in her anointed strength, will smite the monster and utterly destroy her. So let your merchants and underwriters possess their souls in peace.—Phil. Inquirer.

AMOUNT OF FOOD REQUIRED TO PRODUCE ONE POUND OF FLESH.—To produce one pound of flesh, in fattening stock, it is calculated to take the consumption of either 100 pounds of turnips, 50 pounds of potatoes, 25 pounds of milk, 9 pounds of oat meal, 8 pounds of barley meal, 7 pounds of bread, the same quantity of flour, 3 pounds of peas, or nearly 4 pounds of beans.

SINGER & CO.'S
STANDARD MACHINES,

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $75.

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the word for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE,

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two-fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

Official Paper of the City.

What it Means.

It cannot have escaped the observation of all who are conversant with the ultra pro slavery democratic papers of the north, that there has been a concerted effort on their part, for several months, to excite the people by charging loyal men, who are for an earnest prosecution of the war, with "Abolitionism." It is the daily cry of these newspapers. You cannot open one without finding it. Almost every editorial of such papers is charged with venom spit out in the name of "Abolitionism." Such papers as the New York Herald and Journal of Commerce, known to be disloyal when Sumter fell, strike the key note, and the others follow. It is taken up by all the smaller newspapers of that stripe, and also copied into the border state papers.

This concert of action and of ideas means something. It should be watched, for under the guise of a pretended support of the government, the slimy serpent of treason, may lurk concealed, ready to aid the rebel cause more boldly, when the hearts of the people are sufficiently estranged.

We call attention to this subject as one of importance. As an evidence that we do not speak without cause we copy the following from the Cincinnati Gazette, of March 18th:

"But this cry of "abolitionism" is not kept up by the Enquirer without an object. It is the handle that the Knights of the Golden Circle have adopted to aid the rebel cause. It was found that the great masses of the people of the north were attached to Union, and could not be moved; but something might be accomplished by getting them excited on the 'abolition' question. Accordingly when a person is invited now to join the K. G. C's he is informed that it a 'mutual protection society, to oppose abolitionists,' and little by little the candidate is led into the vortex of treason. This information we gather from a little work that has been placed in our hands entitled 'An authentic exposition of the origin, objects and secret work of the organization known as the Knights of the Golden Circle, published by the U. S. National U. C., February, 1862; and entered according to act of congress, in the Clerk's office of the district court for the district of Kentucky, February 20th, 1862.' This exposition doubtless caused the Kentucky legislature to pass a law making it a criminal offense, punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than one, nor more than five years, to belong to such a society. This work contains the most startling developments, and it ought to be read by every loyal citizen. We cannot do more now than to publish a paragraph relative to the alleged organs of the society. It says:

"'While the 'Caucassian' is the special organ and privately circulated in many places, there are many leading newspapers in the north said to be edited by 'Knights,' and eagerly sought for by the brotherhood in their respective states and in the different states to indicate the progress of the work, and which are deemed able auxiliaries. Among them I may mention the Herald, Journal of Commerce, Express and a French newspaper, New York city; Courier, and Post, Boston; Times, Hartford; Atlas and Argus, Albany; Union, Rochester; Courier, Buffalo; Enquirer, Cincinnati; Free Press, Detroit; Times, Chicago; News, Milwaukee; and many others of less note. These are the principal names on the lists of traveling messengers for those states."'

"Loyal people, may be able from this to appreciate the cry of 'Abolitionists,' which is used so constantly by the Enquirer, New York Herald, &c., and their followers. It is simply a war cry adopted by the Knights of the Golden Circle, to lead people into the vortex of treason; and to place the national government in the hands of the rebel leaders, either by the power of the sword, or the rebellion going against Jeff. Davis, by compromise. Let the people take warning."

☞ The Milwaukee Sentinel, in a leading article on one side of the paper, very solemnly protests against all criticism on military matters, as impugning the judgment of the President; while, on the other side it ridicules with its keen wit, the efforts of the navy in the construction of the Monitor for defence against the attacks of the Merrimac. The latter effort of the Sentinel is a weak imitation of the worst characteristics of the Tribune, while the former is in the oracular style of the New York World, and we presume it is the same in language, as well as style. If an "onward" movement is proper for the Monitor to test its ability, we see no reason why it is not equally so on the part of the army of the Potomac. We have no objection to the Sentinel playing double, on this and all other questions, but for the honor of the profession we object to this feat being accomplished in the same number of its issue.

Will the Sentinel answer this question: Is all discussion of national affairs, unless favorable to the administration, to be denounced as weakening the government, and therefore a species of disloyalty? If this is the ground assumed by the peculiar representatives of the administration, they must live up to their own rule.

Correspondence of the Janesville Gazette.

Quavers from the Capitol.

WASHINGTON, March 17, 1862.

"What has become of A. G.?" Answer —Patiently waiting for months for a "forward movement" that was predicted would take place "in a few days!" and all the justification he offers for this seeming failure is that "large bodies move slow."

But finally the Army of the Potomac has got ready and moved forward. Only a few days later than the enemy "got ready" to move backward, but "better late than never."

I said large bodies move slow. Not always. The celerity of the movement depends somewhat upon circumstances—the direction of the movement. Hasty movements have been made even by the army of the Potomac, as the melancholy record of our hot Sunday last summer fully proves, but that was a backward movement—a "forced march!", The recent demonstration, however, was forward. Deliberate, long contemplated, majestic, irresistable and thrice victorious. Centerville is ours! Bull Run is ours! Manassas is ours! Who shall say the army of the Potomac has not courageously and fully retrieved its reputation? Atoned for the disasters of Bull Run and Ball's Bluff? True, we took no prisoners, very little if any military stores, a few dead horses, and broken wagons, to offset against the good ones we previously lost there, but we are not particularly in need of horses, and our Yankee soldiers can repair the wagons, "most as good 's new."

There is one species of our loss there last summer, however, that our soldiers are to a considerable extent recovering. The bones of their former companions in arms, who fell upon that memorable and unfortunate field, having in some instances undergone a seven months bleaching upon the naked field, others have been recovered from trenches hardly a foot beneath the surface. While I am writing I hear the solemn dirge and can see the long military column passing with what remains of the gallant Col. Cameron. It must be a melancholy satisfaction to the late secretary of war that he is allowed, only by conquest, to pay this tardy tribute to the memory of his departed brother. And it is no less a sickening comment upon "southern chivalry" that yields such a return for the enbalmed body of Garnett, sent to them by a flag of truce just before the death of Cameron.

But to return to our recent victory—for my present purpose is to do honor to the army of the Potomac, and to defend the reputation of its young commander. I consider the great strategy of this achievment to consist in its having been accomplished without the loss of a man on either side.—You will notice in the address of Gen. McClellan to his army that he proposes the accomplishment of the great result "with the least possible loss." And this is certainly right. All great generals have acted upon it. You will recollect that Gen. Patterson declared the same thing to the young Pennsylvania volunteers, last summer, that he had "endeavored to look after them like a father, and return them safe to their homes," which he did. And Bonaparte, although some considered him hasty and unreasonable in requiring his generals to get ready and move a division in less than 'six hours.' Yet, after all, he studied the economy of life, and did a great deal by "strategy." I know that a good many people are begining to doubt the military capacity of the young Napoleon of the Potomac, but let them wait a little, even now let them show where any of our generals in this war have taken three strong-holds in one day! and Bull Run one of them! and all without the loss of a man. Yours truly, A. G.

If it pleases the News to put the democratic members of the assembly on record against a repeal of the fugitive slave law, we will no find fault with its taste. —Janesville Gazette.

The constitution of the United States says that fugitive "shall be delivered up." Do you support the constitution? The judicial branch of the government has decided that the fugitive slave law is constitutional. Do you support the government?—Milwaukee News.

We support both the constitution and the government, but we are not aware that the provision of the constitution which requires the rendition of fugitives from service or labor compels congress to pass any law at all. Daniel Webster, who is good authority with men of the News stripe, contended that the duty of passing a fugitive law might be performed by the states, and New Jersey has now such a law. But suppose congress has exclusively this power, what is there to prevent a "constitutional" repeal of the present infamous law, and the substitution of a more humane one, which should give the fugitive the right of trial by jury to determine the essential fact of his being a slave? The "judicial branch" would hold such a law as constitutional as the existing statutes.

Now, does the News support the government? Does it consider the organization of the Knights of the Golden Circle an auxiliary to the war now waging to maintain the authority of the constitution and the government?

A Washington telegram asserts that, according to Mr. Chase, the daily outgoes of the nation are now $4,000,000. We do not credit it. If it is true, we cannot go on at that rate six months without utter bankruptcy. We presume the statement means that payments for past indebtedness and present expenses absorb that much each day. It would be a desirable thing to know officially what the daily expenses actually are, and what they are likely to be, during the war.

Mr. Pringle, an unnaturalized Scotchman resident at Manassas during the winter, relates incidents of rebel disentombing, of savage decapitation, and of a procession with skulls on bayonets.—Washington correspondence.

What "constitutional rights," so much talked of as belonging to the rebels, do such demons as these possess? They are outlaws both to society and nature, and should be so treated.

All prisoners in Gen. Buell's late department have been ordered sent to Columbus, Ohio.

THE GREAT BATTLE OF PEA RIDGE.

Full Particulars of the Three Days' Fighting.

Army Correspondence Cincinnati Times.

CAMP SIGEL, PEA RIDGE, Benton County, Ark., Monday Evening, March 10.

This battle, like that up the Cumberland, extended over a great deal of ground, and was characterized by a vast amount of irregular fighting, such as it is impossible to embrace with the eye, and almost impossible to describe in detail. Such particulars, however, as I can gather amid the tumult and confusion that attend and follow a battle, I will endeavor to furnish in my usual crude and desultory form.

General Curtis' force was generally stated at about twenty thousand, but those who knew the fact were aware they were little more than half that number; while the strength of the enemy after Price's junction with the rebels encamped at various places in Arkansas could not, at the lowest computation, be less than twenty-five or thirty thousand.

FEARS FOR OUR TROOPS.

No marvel fears were felt for the safety of our soldiers, notwithstanding the confidence reposed in such officers as Sigel, Carr, Davis, Osterhaus, and others, who had been tested by severe ordeals on other fields. That their situation was precarious—that the odds were largely against them—and the prospect of their success dim and distant, is evident at a glance.

Our little army seemed rather to consult its ardor than its prudence, and marched steadily on in the face of frowning dangers and formidable opposition. Our advance reached Fayetteville, forty-five miles below the Missouri state line, and still Price retreated.

At Boston mountains the Missouri rebel was joined by Ben. McCulloch, Van Dorn, Albert Pike and his Indians, and McIntosh, who had been made generalissimo of all the secession forces in Arkansas, much to the chagrin of Sterling Price, really more deserving of the great dishonor.

At this time Gen. Curtis, hearing of the rebel re-enforcements, and knowing their force more than twice his own, had no doubt he would be attacked, or at least have an opportunity for battle in a very few days. He discovered that the vicinity of Sugar Creek was much better adapted for camping, and he therefore ordered his advance to fall back to the neighborhood of that stream. Up to this time Price and McIntosh had believed the federal army at least 50,000 strong; not supposing Curtis and Sigel would have the temerity to enter a thickly settled state, whose every man, woman and child had been reported as hostile, to the last degree, to the odious Yankees.

Hearing of Curtis' retrograde movement, McIntosh had no doubt that he was retreating in hot haste, anxious to escape from the toils in which he had discovered himself, as it was hoped, too late for extrication. When he learned, too, through one of his spies, the exact number of the federal troops, he was confident they were flying, and thereafter the only effort was to destroy or capture the Yankee host.

CHARACTER OF THE BATTLE FIELD.

Before describing the battle, it will probably facilitate the comprehension of your readers to know the nature of the country and the situation of the ground on which the engagement occurred.

Benton county is called, in Arkansas, quite fertile, though its appearance does not indicate it, nor do I believe it would be so regarded in another state. It is rough and hilly, often rocky, the soil being generally of a clayey character, and covered in many places with small trees, such as are known hereabouts as black jack and post oaks, with occasionally larger timber.

The two principal roads are from Keetsville to Fayetteville, and these at various points are well adopted by nature for strong defenses, furnishing ready means for the successful resistance of a large by a small force. The roads are crooked and rugged, and though easy for the passage of horses, cattle and mules, are very difficult for the conveyance of heavy wagons and artillery. In some cases, our troops were detained for hours, and even days, in transferring their cannon a few miles.

Frequently they were fired upon from the woods by small bands of rebels, who, knowing the country well, always contrived to elude pursuit. Had the enemy been more daring, they could have caused us annoyance and serious loss by opposing our progress into the state; but fortunately for us, they were, so far as their effective force was concerned, at a very harmless distance.

Sugar Creek rises to the east of the Keetsville road, flows through the lower part of Pea Ridge, which is about eight miles below the Missouri line, and flows toward the north. Pea Ridge is rather a series of ridges on a high table land, covered with undergrowth and small sized trees, while in some quarters the timber is large and tall. Last autumn a tornado visited Northern Arkansas, and for several miles blew down the trees, which have lain there ever since, and offer serious obstructions to transportation of all kinds. Pea Ridge, on which the battle was fought, varies in breadth from two to five miles and extends some 14 or 15 miles, and so uneven are its surfaces, that no one can see for more than a few hundred yards at a time, in consequence of the intervening trees.

A small settlement, including some half a dozen houses, to which the name of Leetown has been given, is on the Ridge, and also three or four farm houses, all of which were deserted before the engagement began. The banks of Sugar Creek are not steep, and as the stream is small, it is easy to cross, even with artillery.

The battle began on the lower side of the creek, and was soon after transferred to the upper; and on the second and third days was conducted toward the east, with occasional shiftings to the west, including a scope of at least eight or ten miles.

THE FEDERAL ARMY.

Our effective force could not have been more than 12,000 on the day of the first engagement, and was composed of Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, and Missouri troops. The army was divided into three divisions, under Gens. Sigel Davis and Carr, and the whole under the command of Gen. Samuel R. Curtis, a brave and patriotic officer.

THE REBEL ARMY.

The rebel army was composed of nine or ten, perhaps twelve thousand Missouri state troops, under Maj. Gen. Sterling Price; some six or eight regiments of Arkansas, under Gen. Ben McCulloch; five or six regiments of Texans, under Gen. Earl Van Dorn; some three thousand Cherokee, Choctaw, Creek and Seminole Indians, under Col. Albert Pike, all under the command of Maj. Gen. McIntosh. In addition to those already mentioned, there were two or three regiments of Louisiana troops, and companies of Mississippi and Alabama soldiers, under their respective captains, majors and colonels, whose names are unknown alike to your correspondent and to fame. The entire rebel force could not have been less than thirty thousand; many persons estimate it still higher.

ARMS OF THE FEDERALISTS AND REBELS.

Our troops were of course generally well armed, while the rebels varied as usual in the style, character and effectiveness of their weapons. Many of the confederate arms are excellent, embracing Minie rifles, Enfield muskets and good United States muskets; but the greater portion were rifles and shot guns, with which Sterling Price once swore he could establish the southern confederacy against the opposing world.

The rebels had eighty-two field pieces, some twenty of which were rifled; while we had but forty-nine; most of them, however, being of superior manufacture to those made in secessia.

THE FIRST DAY'S FIGHTING.

As I have said, the rebels, before they began the now memorable battle in Benton county, Arkansas, on Thursday morning, March 6th, 1862, were entirely confident of success, and their chief concern was only how to destroy or capture our whole force.

Gen. Curtis anticipated an attack from the south, and accordingly had the trains placed on the north, under the protection of Gen. Sigel, with a body of eight hundred men—the principal federal encampments and main lines being to the eastward, near the head and on both sides of Sugar Creek. Meantime the rebel forces were moving in full strength from Bentonville, whence they had proceeded from Cross Hollows, and with rapid marches were endeavoring to cross the creek, and by placing themselves on the north, to cut off our retreat.

An advance of about two thousand cavalry reached the desired position and made a fierce onslaught on Sigel, hoping to take possession of our large and valuable train.

Sigel proved himself the right man in the right place. He gallantly met the enemy, and while he repelled their charge, prevented them from seizing upon our wagons. The brave and accomplished officer seemed ubiquitous. He rode rapidly here and there; giving orders and observing the point of attack and the situation of the enemy, at the same time cheering and encouraging his men.

Often he was in the thickest of the fight, and yet he was always cool, calculating and skillful; exposing himself as a common soldier, and yet preserving the calm judgment and fixed purpose of a commander-in-chief.

Sigel's desire was to keep communication open between himself and the main camp, and the enemy's design was to cut off this avenue for re-enforcements. They closed round him with tumultuous shouts, when Sigel rushed in upon them with his brave followers and compelled them to give way. Sigel could not relinquish the trains and so he fought on, and exhorted his men to renewed hope and courage by his example.

For two hours the strife went on with great ardor on both sides; but it seemed as if the federalists would soon be compelled to yield. There seemed no hope for them. They must become exhausted, and doubtless they must have done so, had their destiny been in less powerful and expert hands than Sigel's.

The waves of opposition rolled around Sigel's courageous band once more, and again the traitorous shout went up to the sky, and swept like a note of victory along the rising hill. Many a stout loyal heart doubtless sank when that cry was heard, but Sigel had no thoughts of failure. He was fighting for his adopted country and the salvation of his little band, and ordering three companies of his men to charge bayonets, the rebel cavalry was dispersed, and the way was open once more.

Still no re-enforcements came, and our gallant soldiers appeared contending as a forlorn hope.

About the trains the din of strife rose louder than before, and the rattle of musketry and the booming of cannon awoke the surrounding echoes.

The enemy were losing ground. They rallied and fell with redoubled force on our heroic band, two hundred of whom had already proved their patriotism with their blood.

The combat was hand to hand. Horsemen were dismounted, and struggled with the infantry, while the officers were sometimes seen defending themselves against the advancing bayonets of the common soldier.

A superhuman effort on the part of the enemy, and a third time the federalists were surrounded.

Firmer and firmer were the rebels closing round the five or six hundred braves, who were evidently going to the wall.

The sun of Hope seemed sinking, though that of nature was shining clear from out the quiet sky.

Sigel saw the smile of Heaven, only, and would not despond. His eye flashed, and his form expanded, as the shouts of the enemy rose above the din of the struggle. Only one way was left:

"Follow me!" thundered Sigel, and his proud steed trampled an approaching rebel under his haughty feet.

A deep, strong, earnest cry from the Unionists, and they met the foe with the rush of determination and the energy of despair.

The secession line could not endure the shock. It recoiled, was thrown into confusion, and retired from a position that was immovable as an Alpine rock.

Sigel was victorious with the sun still beaming clearly out of the quiet sky.

The train was saved. The first day was won.

The prestige of success was established, and the future looked blue with hope as the violets of the early year.

[Concluded to-morrow.]

GEN. GRANT.—It is announced that the war department has authorized, which is understood as meaning instructed, General Halleck to supersede Gen. Grant, on account of bad conduct at Fort Donelson and elsewhere. We were prepared to hear this, from what we had previously learned in regard to the character of this general, who has been greeted as the hero of Fort Donelson. There is, as we understand, no complaint of the loyalty, or of the capability of Gen. Grant, but there are serious charges against his sobriety. We have heard, from a reliable source, that Gen. Grant is very often intoxicated. That the loss of life at Belmont, and the disastrous result of the first half of that bloody Saturday's fight at Fort Donelson, was owing to the criminal drunkenness of the commanding general. It is time he was superseded, if these charges are true. We must not allow the lives of our brave soldiers to be sacrificed by drunken generals. It is somewhat singular, but Gen. Grant was appointed colonel by Gov. Yates to fill the place of a drunkard; we regret that Gen. Grant did not take warning at the fate of his predecessor.—Woodstock Sentinel.

A RATHER PLEASANT INCIDENT.—A few days ago Gen. Buell was riding on horseback through the streets of Nashville, when an aristocratic lady, a Mrs. W., living in a fine large house, stood at an open door or window, waved a rebel flag towards him and cried, "Hurrah for Jeff Davis and the southern confederacy!" The general reined in his horse, turned to the lady, touched his hat with all the courtesy and suavity for which he is remarkable, and surveying the fine house from top to bottom with the eye of a connoisseur, quietly remarked, "An excellent house for a hospital!" In less than two hours every room was full of sick soldiers, and Mrs. W. was politely requested to take kind care of them. We heartily congratulate her upon her privilege of ministering to the needs of suffering patriots.—Louisville Democrat.

Vanity Fair has a picture called "Jemmy Twitcher Floyd," represented Brother Jonathan with a horse-whip preparing to punish Floyd, while the the latter cries out, "Well, if I did steal your guns, I didn't fire 'em."

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE. Office in Union Passenger Depot.

Last Night's Report.

NEW YORK, March 19.

The following is Gen. Burnside's congratulatory address to his troops:

GENERAL ORDER NO. 19.
HEADQUARTERS DEP'T NORTH CAROLINA, Newbern, March 14th.

The General Commanding congratulates his troops upon their brilliant and hard won victory of the 14th. Their courage, their endurance of fatigue, exposure and toil, cannot be too highly praised. After a tedious march, dragging their howitzers by hand through swamps and thickets, after a sleepless night, passed in drenching rain; they met the enemy in his position, found him protected by strong earthworks, mounting many and heavy guns, and in an open field themselves, they conquered. With such soldiers advance is victory. The general commanding directs with peculiar pride, that as a well deserved tribute to valor in this second victory of the expedition, that each regiment engaged shall inscribe on its banner the name "Newbern."

By command of Brig. Gen. Commanding A. E. BURNSIDE.

LEWIS RICHMOND,
Adjutant General.

WASHINGTON, March 18.

Gen. Burnside was confirmed major general to day. There was no action touching Buell's nomination as major general.

Wendell Phillips had an interview with the president to-day by special invitation.

Among the cadets at large just appointed by the president are Ed. W. Baker and Erasmus D. Keyes, of Illinois, William H. Upham, of Wisconsin, and Edmund E. Sharp and Chas. Woodson Bates, of Mo.

The war department will probably authorize the arming of the Indians on the Kansas border, as Commissioner Dole advises it.

A spy arrested within our lines, had a pass from the provost marshal, and documents signed by Beauregard. The conduct of the war committee has investigated the matter of passes, and some queer facts are coming to light.

It seems from a paper transmitted from the war department to the senate, that Gen. McClellan charges the government the monthly sum of $120 for the rent of offices; Gen. Halleck charges $136; Gen. Buell $230; Gen. Wool (at Troy) $420; Gen. Butler (at Boston) $70; Gen. Rosecrans (at Wheeling) $46; Gen. Dix occupies offices belonging to the government at Baltimore.

WASHINGTON, March 19.

The brig Leslie, which arrived last night reports that when she passed Acquia, the buildings and wharf there were burning.—It is supposed the rebels have evacuated after firing the place.

Dispatches from Com. Dupont announce that the United States flag floats over Fort Macon, at St. Augustine, Florida. The town surrendered without fighting. The town authorities received Com. Rogers in the Town Hall, and being assured that he would protect loyal citizens, they raised the flag with their own hands. The rebels evacuated the night before our gunboats appeared.

Jackson, Florida, also surrendered. The governor of Florida recommended the earliest evacuation of east Florida.

NEW YORK, March 19.

The Commercial Advertiser says its correspondent had permission from Gen. Burnside to say that an expedition would soon leave for Beaufort, North Carolina, strong enough to overcome all obstacles, and the place is probably captured before this.

Gen. Butler and staff are still reported at Hilton Head, Port Royal

PHILADELPHIA, March 19.

It is reported here that the rebel commissioner Yancy has been captured while attempting to run the blockade.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DESPATCHES.

WINCHESTER, March 19.

The railroad bridge at Harper's Ferry was completed last night. The railroad is also completed from Cumberland to Martinsburg, but it will take several days to finish the road from Martinsburg to the Ferry, in consequence of the want of the rails taken up by the enemy.

Messengers from Strasburg report that the rear guard of Jackson disputed General Shield's approach, foot by, foot, with infantry and artillery. It is reported that our cavalry occupied the town.

LATER.—One of our soldiers was severely wounded. The agent of Adams' Express is now here to re-establish an office.

The official report says: Gen. Shilds encountered the rear guard of Jackson's forces just beyond Middletown, with four field pieces, and small bodies of cavalry and infantry. They disputed Gen. Shields' progress, stopping at all the strongest points, until they crossed the bridge. Gen. Shields this morning built a temporary bridge, and after a skirmish entered the town, and threw out his pickets two miles beyond. The loss of the enemy is not stated.

WASHINGTON, March 19.

A dispatch received from Cairo, dated 9 o'clock says: Nothing has been heard from Island No. 10. To-day General Pope repulsed the rebel gunboat fleet at New Madrid, sinking one and damaging others. Ex-Gov. Morehead, of Ky., was to day released by order of the secretary of war, upon the conditions of the parole which he was requested to take at the time of his discharge from Fort Warren.

A dispatch from Flag Officer Dupont, dated off San Augustine, Florida, contains the following: Further information from the St. Johns River is satisfactory. The burning of the mills and lumber, with the fine hotel at Jacksonville, and the house of Mr. Robinson, a Union man, was by order of the rebel Gen. Trape, who, after ingloriously flying with his forces from the town, with very considerable means of defence at hand, sent a large detachment back for the incendiary's purpose, on discovering that our gunboats had not been able to cross the bar.

NEW YORK, March 20.

The Tribune special states that yesterday night there returned to Camp Curtis, a scouting party of the 1st New Jersey cavalry, which had penetrated three miles beyond Occoquain. They confirm the tidings of the complete abandonment of that portion of the country by the rebels. They brought back as prisoner one Lynn, ex-deputy of the city of Occoquain.

Government has information from reliable sources, that the four steam rams now building by the rebels, two at Mobile and two at New Orleans, are similar in construction, though undoubtedly more formidable, than the Hollins' Turtle. They will, however, it is believed, be no comparison with the Merrimac.

NEW YORK, March 20.

John J. Giles was yesterday arrested for swindling the government.

Times' dispatch from the rebel batteries at Shipping Point, Wednesday, says a contraband has just arrived and reports that Jeff Davis issued a proclamation on the 16th, calling upon all the male inhabitants between the ages of 16 and 60 to form themselves into companies, and report immediately to headquarters. Virginia, he says, demands every sacrifice to maintain the integrity of the soil. Many are fleeing from their homes, anxious to reach our side. Everything is now at a stand from the Potomac to Richmond. Trade is totally suspended.

A deserter was brought in, yesterday, to Liverpool Point. He left home because the proclamation was issued on the 16th for all the militia to turn out. He was in Fredericksburg day before yesterday.—Troops were arriving at Fredericksburg from the banks of the Potomac; 20,000 to 30,000 have passed through. We heard that they were defending a line formed by Acquia Creek, Beaver Dam and Rappahannock, and a gap in the mountain.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

MADISON, Wis., March 20.

About 200 feet of the barracks at Camp Randall was burnt up about midnight last night. Parts of companies A and C were quartered in them and lost considerable of their equipments and baggage. One German lad belonging to O'Connor's company, from Fond du Lac, was burnt to death. A man from Beaver Dam was burnt so seriously that he died this morning. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is supposed to have been accidental. On account of the lateness of the hour and severity of the storm, no fire engines could be got there until too late to be of service. Owing to the confusion caused by the fire and failure to receive pay, there was some trouble about the departure of the 17th regiment, but they nearly all left this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, March 20.

An official dispatch from Com. Foot, received at 12 o'clock last night at Cairo, telegraphed hither, says: "Island No. 10 is harder to conquer than Columbus, as the Island shores are lined with forts. Each fort commanding the one above it. I am gradually approaching the Island, but still do not hope for much until the occurrence of certain events which promise success."

Com. Foote adds: "We are firing day and night on the rebels, and we gain on them. We are having some of the most beautiful rifle practice ever witnessed. The mortar shells have done fine execution. One shell was landed on their floating battery, and cleared the concern in short metre."

WASHINGTON, March 20.

Three deserters brought up by the steamer Leslie this morning, confirm the report of the evacuation of Acquia Creek. They say the rebel forces there had been 2,000. Before the rebels left they tore up a large part of the railroad, set fire to the station and burnt a large schooner.

FORTRESS MONROE, March 19.

Segar is elected to congress by 130 to 110 majority.

A flag of truce was sent out to-day, but no news was received from the south. By order of Gen. Wool, the boat's crew were not permitted to receive any southern newspapers, and consequently the press is cut off from the supply heretofore drawn.

The steamer Rhode Island arrived from Key West yesterday evening, with mails, and sailed immediately for New York. Yancey was captured a day or two since, on board a schooner which was trying to run the blockade. He was dressed in sailor costume, but was recognized by one of the newspaper correspondents. St. Marys, Florida, has been occupied by our forces.

It has been discovered that the telegraph cable was cut about 10 miles from the eastern shore. A man has been arrested who is supposed to have been the culprit. An example will be made of him.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company

OF THE

STATE OF WISCONSIN,

Presents advantages in all respects equal, and in some superior, to those of other companies doing business in the northwest. Its rates, its plan of operations, and its basis, are identical with the best companies in this country and Europe. Its age, and consequently its accumulations, are not equal to theirs in amount, but in proportion to the age of risks, and amount at risk, they will compare favorably with the most successful.

Its assets, which have resulted solely from the accumulations of three years, amount to $86,881.20, and its annual income, from policies now in force, over $65,000.

Its assets and business are constantly increasing. Its losses have been promptly paid. Its trustees are well known, honorable business men, and are as capable of managing an institution of this kind, as men in any other portion of the United States. The experience of the company thus far proves that we can have as reliable companies in the west as any where else, if we will, and self-interest certainly indicates that we should have them, and build up home interests in every practicable way. In the above respects, this company claims equality with its co-workers, and in the following superiority: It obtains the greater portion of its business in the healthiest portion of the United States, thus having the advantage of a less per centage of loss: it receives higher rates of interest on its investments, thus making more rapid accumulations—both very important items in Life Insurance; and its expenses have been less in proportion to its business than any other new company doing business in the United States.

Official Paper of the City.

Forever float that standard sheet!
Where breathes the foe but falls before us?
With Freedom's soil beneath our feet,
And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us!

What it Means.

It cannot have escaped the observation of all who are conversant with the ultra pro slavery democratic papers of the north, that there has been a concerted effort on their part, for several months, to excite the people by charging loyal men. who are for an earnest prosecution of the war, with "Abolitionism." It is the daily cry of these newspapers. You cannot open one without finding it. Almost every editorial of such papers is charged with venom spit out in the name of "Abolitionism." Such papers as the New York Herald and Journal of Commerce, known to be disloyal when Sumter fell, strike the key note, and the others follow. It is taken up by all the smaller newspapers of that stripe, and also copied into the border state papers.

This concert of action and of ideas means something. It should be watched, for under the guise of a pretended support of the government, the slimy serpent of treason, may lurk concealed, ready to aid the rebel cause more boldly, when the hearts of the people are sufficiently estranged.

We call attention to this subject as one of importance. As an evidence that we do not speak without cause we copy the following from the Cincinnati Gazette, of March 18th:

"But this cry of "abolitionism" is not kept up by the Enquirer without an object. It is the handle that the Knights of the Golden Circle have adopted to aid the rebel cause. It was found that the great masses of the people of the north were attached to Union, and could not be moved; but something might be accomplished by getting them excited on the 'abolition' question. Accordingly when a person is invited now to join the K. G. C's he is informed that it a 'mutual protection society, to oppose abolitionists,' and little by little the candidate is led into the vortex of treason. This information we gather from a little work that has been placed in our hands entitled 'An authentic exposition of the origin, objects and secret work of the organization known as the Knights of the Golden Circle, published by the U. S. National U. C., February, 1862: and entered according to act of congress, in the Clerk's office of the district court for the district of Kentucky, February 20th, 1862.' This exposition doubtless caused the Kentucky legislature to pass a law making it a criminal offense, punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than one, nor more than five years, to belong to such a society. This work contains the most startling developments, and it ought to be read by every loyal citizen. We cannot do more now than to publish a paragraph relative to the alleged organs of the society. It says:

"'While the 'Caucassian' is the special organ and privately circulated in many places, there are many leading newspapers in the north said to be edited by 'Knights,' and eagerly sought for by the brotherhood in their respective states and in the different states to indicate the progress of the work, and which are deemed able auxiliaries. Among them I may mention the Herald, Journal of Commerce, Express and a French newspaper, New York city; Courier, and Post, Boston; Times, Hartford; Atlas and Argus, Albany; Union, Rochester; Courier, Buffalo; Enquirer, Cincinnati; Free Press, Detroit; Times, Chicago; News, Milwaukee; and many others of less note. These are the principal names on the lists of traveling messengers for those states."'

"Loyal people, may be able from this to appreciate the cry of 'Abolitionists,' which is used so constantly by the Enquirer, New York Herald, &c., and their followers. It is simply a war cry adopted by the Knights of the Golden Circle, to lead people into the vortex of treason; and to place the national government in the hands of the rebel leaders, either by the power of the sword, or the rebellion going against Jeff. Davis, by compromise. Let the people take warning."

☞ The Milwaukee Sentinel, in a leading article on one side of the paper, very solemnly protests against all criticism on military matters, as impugning the judgment of the President; while, on the other side it ridicules with its keen wit, the efforts of the navy in the construction of the Monitor for defence against the attacks of the Merrimac. The latter effort of the Sentinel is a weak imitation of the worst characteristics of the Tribune, while the former is in the oracular style of the New York World, and we presume it is the same in language, as well as style. If an "onward" movement is proper for the Monitor to test its ability, we see no reason why it is not equally so on the part of the army of the Potomac. We have no objection to the Sentinel playing double, on this and all other questions, but for the honor of the profession we object to this feat being accomplished in the same number of its issue.

Will the Sentinel answer this question: Is all discussion of national affairs, unless favorable to the administration, to be denounced as weakening the government, and therefore a species of disloyalty? If this is the ground assumed by the peculiar representatives of the administration, they must live up to their own rule.

Correspondence of the Janesville Gazette.

Quavers from the Capitol.

WASHINGTON, March 17, 1862.

"What has become of A. G.?" Answer—Patiently waiting for months for a "forward movement" that was predicted would take place "in a few days!" and all the justification he offers for this seeming failure is that "large bodies move slow."

But finally the Army of the Potomac has got ready and moved forward. Only a few days later than the enemy "got ready" to move backward, but "better late than never."

I said large bodies move slow. Not always. The celerity of the movement depends somewhat upon circumstances—the direction of the movement. Hasty movements have been made even by the army of the Potomac, as the melancholy record of our hot Sunday last summer fully proves, but that was a backward movement—a "forced march!", The recent demonstration, however, was forward. Deliberate, long contemplated, majestic, irresistable and thrice victorious. Centerville is ours! Bull Run is ours! Manassas is ours! Who shall say the army of the Potomac has not courageously and fully retrieved its reputation? Atoned for the disasters of Bull Run and Ball's Bluff? True, we took no prisoners, very little if any military stores, a few dead horses, and broken wagons, to offset against the good ones we previously lost there, but we are not particularly in need of horses, and our Yankee soldiers can repair the wagons, "most as good as new."

There is one species of our loss there last summer, however, that our soldiers are to a considerable extent recovering. The bones of their former companions in arms, who fell upon that memorable and unfortunate field, having in some instances undergone a seven months bleaching upon the naked field, others have been recovered from trenches hardly a foot beneath the surface. While I am writing I hear the solemn dirge and can see the long military column passing with what remains of the gallant Col. Cameron. It must be a melancholy satisfaction to the late secretary of war that he is allowed, only by conquest, to pay this tardy tribute to the memory of his departed brother. And it is no less a sickening comment upon "southern chivalry" that yields such a return for the enbalmed body of Garnett, sent to them by a flag of truce just before the death of Cameron.

But to return to our recent victory—for my present purpose is to do honor to the army of the Potomac, and to defend the reputation of its young commander. I consider the great strategy of this achievment to consist in its having been accomplished without the loss of a man on either side.—You will notice in the address of Gen. McClellan to his army that he proposes the accomplishment of the great result "with the least possible loss." And this is certainly right. All great generals have acted upon it. You will recollect that Gen. Patterson declared the same thing to the young Pennsylvania volunteers, last summer, that he had "endeavored to look after them like a father, and return them safe to their homes," which he did. And Bonaparte, although some considered him hasty and unreasonable in requiring his generals to get ready and move a division in less than 'six hours.' Yet, after all, he studied the economy of life, and did a great deal by "strategy." I know that a good many people are beginning to doubt the military capacity of the young Napoleon of the Potomac, but let them wait a little, even now let them show where any of our generals in this war have taken three strong-holds in one day! and Bull Run one of them! and all without the loss of a man. Yours truly, A. G.

If it pleases the News to put the democratic members of the assembly on record against a repeal of the fugitive slave law, we will not find fault with its taste. —Janesville Gazette.

The constitution of the United States says that fugitive "shall be delivered up." Do you support the constitution? The judicial branch of the government has decided that the fugitive slave law is constitutional. Do you support the government?—Milwaukee News.

We support both the constitution and the government, but we are not aware that the provision of the constitution which requires the rendition of fugitives from service or labor compels congress to pass any law at all. Daniel Webster, who is good authority with men of the News stripe, contended that the duty of passing a fugitive law might be performed by the states, and New Jersey has now such a law. But suppose congress has exclusively this power, what is there to prevent a "constitutional" repeal of the present infamous law, and the substitution of a more humane one, which should give the fugitive the right of trial by jury to determine the essential fact of his being a slave? The "judicial branch" would hold such a law as constitutional as the existing statutes.

Now, does the News support the government? Does it consider the organization of the Knights of the Golden Circle an auxiliary to the war now waging to maintain the authority of the constitution and the government?

A Washington telegram asserts that, according to Mr. Chase, the daily outgoes of the nation are now $4,000,000. We do not credit it. If it is true, we cannot go on at that rate six months without utter bankruptcy. We presume the statement means that payments for past indebtedness and present expenses absorb that much each day. It would be a desirable thing to know officially what the daily expenses actually are, and what they are likely to be, during the war.

Mr. Pringle, an unnaturalized Scotchman resident at Manassas during the winter, relates incidents of rebel disentombing, of savage decapitation, and of a procession with skulls on bayonets.—Washington correspondence.

What "constitutional rights," so much talked of as belonging to the rebels, do such demons as these possess? They are outlaws both to society and nature, and should be so treated.

All prisoners in Gen. Buell's late department have been ordered sent to Columbus, Ohio.

THE GREAT BATTLE OF PEA RIDGE.

Full Particulars of the Three Days' Fighting.

Army Correspondence Cincinnati Times.

CAMP SIGEL, PEA RIDGE, Benton County, Ark., Monday Evening, March 10.

This battle, like that up the Cumberland, extended over a great deal of ground, and was characterized by a vast amount of irregular fighting, such as it is impossible to embrace with the eye, and almost impossible to describe in detail. Such particulars, however, as I can gather amid the tumult and confusion that attend and follow a battle, I will endeavor to furnish in my usual crude and desultory form.

General Curtis' force was generally stated at about twenty thousand, but those who knew the fact were aware they were little more than half that number; while the strength of the enemy after Price's junction with the rebels encamped at various places in Arkansas could not, at the lowest computation, be less than twenty-five or thirty thousand.

FEARS FOR OUR TROOPS.

No marvel fears were felt for the safety of our soldiers, notwithstanding the confidence reposed in such officers as Sigel, Carr, Davis, Osterhaus, and others, who had been tested by severe ordeals on other fields. That their situation was precarious—that the odds were largely against them—and the prospect of their success dim and distant, is evident at a glance.

Our little army seemed rather to consult its ardor than its prudence, and marched steadily on in the face of frowning dangers and formidable opposition. Our advance reached Fayetteville, forty-five miles below the Missouri state line, and still Price retreated.

At Boston mountains the Missouri rebel was joined by Ben. McCulloch, Van Dorn, Albert Pike and his Indians, and McIntosh, who had been made generalissimo of all the secession forces in Arkansas, much to the chagrin of Sterling Price, really more deserving of the great dishonor.

At this time Gen. Curtis, hearing of the rebel re-enforcements, and knowing their force more than twice his own, had no doubt he would be attacked, or at least have an opportunity for battle in a very few days. He discovered that the vicinity of Sugar Creek was much better adapted for camping, and he therefore ordered his advance to fall back to the neighborhood of that stream. Up to this time Price and McIntosh had believed the federal army at least 50,000 strong; not supposing Curtis and Sigel would have the temerity to enter a thickly settled state, whose every man, woman and child had been reported as hostile, to the last degree, to the odious Yankees.

Hearing of Curtis' retrograde movement, McIntosh had no doubt that he was retreating in hot haste, anxious to escape from the toils in which he had discovered himself, as it was hoped, too late for extrication. When he learned, too, through one of his spies, the exact number of the federal troops, he was confident they were flying, and thereafter the only effort was to destroy or capture the Yankee host.

CHARACTER OF THE BATTLE FIELD.

Before describing the battle, it will probably facilitate the comprehension of your readers to know the nature of the country and the situation of the ground on which the engagement occurred.

Benton county is called, in Arkansas, quite fertile, though its appearance does not indicate it, nor do I believe it would be so regarded in another state. It is rough and hilly, often rocky, the soil being generally of a clayey character, and covered in many places with small trees, such as are known hereabouts as black jack and post oaks, with occasionally larger timber.

The two principal roads are from Keetsville to Fayetteville, and these at various points are well adopted by nature for strong defenses, furnishing ready means for the successful resistance of a large by a small force. The roads are crooked and rugged, and though easy for the passage of horses, cattle and mules, are very difficult for the conveyance of heavy wagons and artillery. In some cases, our troops were detained for hours, and even days, in transferring their cannon a few miles.

Frequently they were fired upon from the woods by small bands of rebels, who, knowing the country well, always contrived to elude pursuit. Had the enemy been more daring, they could have caused us annoyance and serious loss by opposing our progress into the state; but fortunately for us, they were, so far as their effective force was concerned, at a very harmless distance.

Sugar Creek rises to the east of the Keetsville road, flows through the lower part of Pea Ridge, which is about eight miles below the Missouri line, and flows toward the north. Pea Ridge is rather a series of ridges on a high table land, covered with undergrowth and small sized trees, while in some quarters the timber is large and tall. Last autumn a tornado visited Northern Arkansas, and for several miles blew down the trees, which have lain there ever since, and offer serious obstructions to transportation of all kinds. Pea Ridge, on which the battle was fought, varies in breadth from two to five miles and extends some 14 or 15 miles, and so uneven are its surfaces, that no one can see for more than a few hundred yards at a time, in consequence of the intervening trees.

A small settlement, including some half a dozen houses, to which the name of Leetown has been given, is on the Ridge, and also three or four farm houses, all of which were deserted before the engagement began. The banks of Sugar Creek are not steep, and as the stream is small, it is easy to cross, even with artillery.

The battle began on the lower side of the creek, and was soon after transferred to the upper; and on the second and third days was conducted toward the east, with occasional shiftings to the west, including a scope of at least eight or ten miles.

THE FEDERAL ARMY.

Our effective force could not have been more than 12,000 on the day of the first engagement, and was composed of Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, and Missouri troops. The army was divided into three divisions, under Gens. Sigel Davis and Carr, and the whole under the command of Gen. Samuel R. Curtis, a brave and patriotic officer.

THE REBEL ARMY.

The rebel army was composed of nine or ten, perhaps twelve thousand Missouri state troops, under Maj. Gen. Sterling Price; some six or eight regiments of Arkansas, under Gen. Ben McCulloch; five or six regiments of Texans, under Gen. Earl Van Dorn; some three thousand Cherokee, Choctaw, Creek and Seminole Indians, under Col. Albert Pike, all under the command of Maj. Gen. McIntosh. In addition to those already mentioned, there were two or three regiments of Louisiana troops, and companies of Mississippi and Alabama soldiers, under their respective captains, majors and colonels, whose names are unknown alike to your correspondent and to fame. The entire rebel force could not have been less than thirty thousand; many persons estimate it still higher.

ARMS OF THE FEDERALISTS AND REBELS.

Our troops were of course generally well armed, while the rebels varied as usual in the style, character and effectiveness of their weapons. Many of the confederate arms are excellent, embracing Minie rifles, Enfield muskets and good United States muskets; but the greater portion were rifles and shot guns, with which Sterling Price once swore he could establish the southern confederacy against the opposing world.

The rebels had eighty-two field pieces, some twenty of which were rifled; while we had but forty-nine; most of them, however, being of superior manufacture to those made in secessia.

THE FIRST DAY'S FIGHTING.

As I have said, the rebels, before they began the now memorable battle in Benton county, Arkansas, on Thursday morning, March 6th, 1862, were entirely confident of success, and their chief concern was only how to destroy or capture our whole force.

Gen. Curtis anticipated an attack from the south, and accordingly had the trains placed on the north, under the protection of Gen. Sigel, with a body of eight hundred men—the principal federal encampments and main lines being to the eastward, near the head and on both sides of Sugar Creek. Meantime the rebel forces were moving in full strength from Bentonville, whence they had proceeded from Cross Hollows, and with rapid marches were endeavoring to cross the creek, and by placing themselves on the north, to cut off our retreat.

An advance of about two thousand cavalry reached the desired position and made a fierce onslaught on Sigel, hoping to take possession of our large and valuable train.

Sigel proved himself the right man in the right place. He gallantly met the enemy, and while he repelled their charge, prevented them from seizing upon our wagons. The brave and accomplished officer seemed ubiquitous. He rode rapidly here and there; giving orders and observing the point of attack and the situation of the enemy, at the same time cheering and encouraging his men.

Often he was in the thickest of the fight, and yet he was always cool, calculating and skillful; exposing himself as a common soldier, and yet preserving the calm judgment and fixed purpose of a commander-in-chief.

Sigel's desire was to keep communication open between himself and the main camp, and the enemy's design was to cut off this avenue for re-enforcements. They closed round him with tumultuous shouts, when Sigel rushed in upon them with his brave followers and compelled them to give way. Sigel could not relinquish the trains and so he fought on, and exhorted his men to renewed hope and courage by his example.

For two hours the strife went on with great ardor on both sides; but it seemed as if the federalists would soon be compelled to yield. There seemed no hope for them. They must become exhausted, and doubtless they must have done so, had their destiny been in less powerful and expert hands than Sigel's.

The waves of opposition rolled around Sigel's courageous band once more, and again the traitorous shout went up to the sky, and swept like a note of victory along the rising hill. Many a stout loyal heart doubtless sank when that cry was heard, but Sigel had no thoughts of failure. He was fighting for his adopted country and the salvation of his little band, and ordering three companies of his men to charge bayonets, the rebel cavalry was dispersed, and the way was open once more.

Still no re-enforcements came, and our gallant soldiers appeared contending as a forlorn hope.

About the trains the din of strife rose louder than before, and the rattle of musketry and the booming of cannon awoke the surrounding echoes.

The enemy were losing ground. They rallied and fell with redoubled force on our heroic band, two hundred of whom had already proved their patriotism with their blood.

The combat was hand to hand. Horsemen were dismounted, and struggled with the infantry, while the officers were sometimes seen defending themselves against the advancing bayonets of the common soldier.

A superhuman effort on the part of the enemy, and a third time the federalists were surrounded.

Firmer and firmer were the rebels closing round the five or six hundred braves, who were evidently going to the wall.

The sun of Hope seemed sinking, though that of nature was shining clear from out the quiet sky.

Sigel saw the smile of Heaven, only, and would not despond. His eye flashed, and his form expanded, as the shouts of the enemy rose above the din of the struggle. Only one way was left:

"Follow me!" thundered Sigel, and his proud steed trampled an approaching rebel under his haughty feet.

A deep, strong, earnest cry from the Unionists, and they met the foe with the rush of determination and the energy of despair.

The secession line could not endure the shock. It recoiled, was thrown into confusion, and retired from a position that was immovable as an Alpine rock.

Sigel was victorious with the sun still beaming clearly out of the quiet sky.

The train was saved. The first day was won.

The prestige of success was established, and the future looked blue with hope as the violets of the early year.

[Concluded to-morrow.]

GEN. GRANT.—It is announced that the war department has authorized, which is understood as meaning instructed, General Halleck to supersede Gen. Grant, on account of bad conduct at Fort Donelson and elsewhere. We were prepared to hear this, from what we had previously learned in regard to the character of this general, who has been greeted as the hero of Fort Donelson. There is, as we understand, no complaint of the loyalty, or of the capability of Gen. Grant, but there are serious charges against his sobriety. We have heard, from a reliable source, that Gen. Grant is very often intoxicated. That the loss of life at Belmont, and the disastrous result of the first half of that bloody Saturday's fight at Fort Donelson, was owing to the criminal drunkenness of the commanding general. It is time he was superseded, if these charges are true. We must not allow the lives of our brave soldiers to be sacrificed by drunken generals. It is somewhat singular, but Gen. Grant was appointed colonel by Gov. Yates to fill the place of a drunkard; we regret that Gen. Grant did not take warning at the fate of his predecessor.—Woodstock Sentinel.

A RATHER PLEASANT INCIDENT.—A few days ago Gen. Buell was riding on horseback through the streets of Nashville, when an aristocratic lady, a Mrs. W., living in a fine large house, stood at an open door or window, waved a rebel flag towards him and cried, "Hurrah for Jeff Davis and the southern confederacy!" The general reined in his horse, turned to the lady, touched his hat with all the courtesy and suavity for which he is remarkable, and surveying the fine house from top to bottom with the eye of a connoisseur, quietly remarked, "An excellent house for a hospital!" In less than two hours every room was full of sick soldiers, and Mrs. W. was politely requested to take kind care of them. We heartily congratulate her upon her privilege of ministering to the needs of suffering patriots.—Louisville Democrat.

Vanity Fair has a picture called "Jemmy Twitcher Floyd," represented Brother Jonathan with a horse-whip preparing to punish Floyd, while the the latter cries out, "Well, if I did steal your guns, I didn't fire 'em."

Last Night's Report.

NEW YORK, March 19.

The following is Gen. Burnside's congratulatory address to his troops:

GENERAL ORDER NO. 19.
HEADQUARTERS DEP'T NORTH CAROLINA, Newbern, March 16th.

The Genreal Commanding congratulates his troops upon their brilliant and hard won victory of the 14th. Their courage, their endurance of fatigue, exposure and toil, cannot be too highly praised. After a tedious march, dragging their howitzers by hand through swamps and thickets, after a sleepless night, passed in drenching rain, they met the enemy in his position, found him protected by strong earthworks, mounting many and heavy guns, and in an open field themselves, they conquered. With such soldiers advance is victory. The general commanding directs with peculiar pride, that as a well deserved tribute to valor in this second victory of the expedition, that each regiment engaged shall inscribe on its banner the name "Newbern."

By command of Brig. Gen. Commanding A. E. BURNSIDE.

LEWIS RICHMOND,
Adjutant General.

WASHINGTON, March 18.

Gen. Burnside was confirmed major general to day. There was no action touching Buell's nomination as major general.

Wendell Phillips had an interview with the president to-day by special invitation.

Among the cadets at large just appointed by the president are Ed. W. Baker and Erasmus D. Keyes, of Illinois, William H. Upham, of Wisconsin, and Edmund E. Sharp and Chas. Woodson Bates, of Mo.

The war department will probably authorize the arming of the Indians on the Kansas border, as Commissioner Dole advises it.

A spy arrested within our lines, had a pass from the provost marshal, and documents signed by Beauregard. The conduct of the war committee has investigated the matter of passes, and some queer facts are coming to light.

It seems from a paper transmitted from the war department to the senate, that Gen. McClellan charges the government the monthly sum of $120 for the rent of offices; Gen. Halleck charges $136; Gen. Buell $230; Gen. Wool (at Troy) $420; Gen. Butler (at Boston) $70; Gen. Rosecrans (at Wheeling) $46; Gen. Dix occupies offices belonging to the government at Baltimore.

WASHINGTON, March 19.

The brig Leslie, which arrived last night reports that when she passed Acquia, the buildings and wharf there were burning.—It is supposed the rebels have evacuated after firing the place.

Dispatches from Com. Dupont announce that the United States flag floats over Fort Macon, at St. Augustine, Florida. The town surrendered without fighting. The town authorities received Com. Rogers in the Town Hall, and being assured that he would protect loyal citizens, they raised the flag with their own hands. The rebels evacuated the night before our gunboats appeared.

Jackson, Florida, also surrendered. The governor of Florida recommended the earliest evacuation of east Florida.

NEW YORK, March 19.

The Commercial Advertiser says its correspondent had permission from Gen. Burnside to say that an expedition would soon leave for Beaufort, North Carolina, strong enough to overcome all obstacles, and the place is probably captured before this.

Gen. Butler and staff are still reported at Hilton Head, Port Royal

PHILADELPHIA, March 19.

It is reported here that the rebel commissioner Yancy has been captured while attempting to run the blockade.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DESPATCHES.

WINCHESTER, March 19.

The railroad bridge at Harper's Ferry was completed last night. The railroad is also completed from Cumberland to Martinsburg, but it will take several days to finish the road from Martinsburg to the Ferry, in consequence of the want of the rails taken up by the enemy.

Messengers from Strasburg report that the rear guard of Jackson disputed General Shield's approach, foot by, foot, with infantry and artillery. It is reported that our cavalry occupied the town.

LATER.—One of our soldiers was severely wounded. The agent of Adams' Express is now here to re-establish an office.

The official report says: Gen. Shilds encountered the rear guard of Jackson's forces just beyond Middletown, with four field pieces, and small bodies of cavalry and infantry. They disputed Gen. Shields' progress, stopping at all the strongest points, until they crossed the bridge. Gen. Shields this morning built a temporary bridge, and after a skirmish entered the town, and threw out his pickets two miles beyond. The loss of the enemy is not stated.

WASHINGTON, March 19.

A dispatch received from Cairo, dated 9 o'clock says: Nothing has been heard from Island No. 10. To-day General Pope repulsed the rebel gunboat fleet at New Madrid, sinking one and damaging others. Ex-Gov. Morehead, of Ky., was to day released by order of the secretary of war, upon the conditions of the parole which he was requested to take at the time of his discharge from Fort Warren.

A dispatch from Flag Officer Dupont, dated off San Augustine, Florida, contains the following: Further information from the St. Johns River is satisfactory. The burning of the mills and lumber, with the fine hotel at Jacksonville, and the house of Mr. Robinson, a Union man, was by order of the rebel Gen. Trape, who, after ingloriously flying with his forces from the town, with very considerable means of defence at hand, sent a large detachment back for the incendiary's purpose, on discovering that our gunboats had not been able to cross the bar.

NEW YORK, March 20.

The Tribune special states that yesterday night there returned to Camp Curtis, a scouting party of the 1st New Jersey cavalry, which had penetrated three miles beyond Occoquain. They confirm the tidings of the complete abandonment of that portion of the country by the rebels. They brought back as prisoner one Lynn, ex-deputy of the city of Occoquain.

Government has information from reliable sources, that the four steam rams now building by the rebels, two at Mobile and two at New Orleans, are similar in construction, though undoubtedly more formidable, than the Hollins' Turtle. They will, however, it is believed, be no comparison with the Merrimac.

NEW YORK, March 20.

John J. Giles was yesterday arrested for swindling the government.

Times' dispatch from the rebel batteries at Shipping Point, Wednesday, says a contraband has just arrived and reports that Jeff Davis issued a proclamation on the 16th, calling upon all the male inhabitants between the ages of 16 and 60 to form themselves into companies, and report immediately to headquarters. Virginia, he says, demands every sacrifice to maintain the integrity of the soil. Many are fleeing from their homes, anxious to reach our side. Everything is now at a stand from the Potomac to Richmond. Trade is totally suspended.

A deserter was brought in, yesterday, to Liverpool Point. He left home because the proclamation was issued on the 16th for all the militia to turn out. He was in Fredericksburg day before yesterday.—Troops were arriving at Fredericksburg from the banks of the Potomac; 20,000 to 30,000 have passed through. We heard that they were defending a line formed by Acquia Creek, Beaver Dam and Rappahannock, and a gap in the mountain.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

MADISON, Wis., March 20.

About 200 feet of the barracks at Camp Randall was burnt up about midnight last night. Parts of companies A and C were quartered in them and lost considerable of their equipments and baggage. One German lad belonging to O'Connor's company, from Fond du Lac, was burnt to death. A man from Beaver Dam was burnt so seriously that he died this morning. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is supposed to have been accidental. On account of the lateness of the hour and severity of the storm, no fire engines could be got there until too late to be of service. Owing to the confusion caused by the fire and failure to receive pay, there was some trouble about the departure of the 17th regiment, but they nearly all left this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, March 20.

An official dispatch from Com. Foot, received at 12 o'clock last night at Cairo, telegraphed hither, says: "Island No. 10 is harder to conquer than Columbus, as the Island shores are lined with forts. Each fort commanding the one above it. I am gradually approaching the Island, but still do not hope for much until the occurrence of certain events which promise success."

Com. Foote adds: "We are firing day and night on the rebels, and we gain on them. We are having some of the most beautiful rifle practice ever witnessed. The mortar shells have done fine execution. One shell was landed on their floating battery, and cleared the concern in short metre."

WASHINGTON, March 20.

Three deserters brought up by the steamer Leslie this morning, confirm the report of the evacuation of Acquia Creek. They say the rebel forces there had been 2,000. Before the rebels left they tore up a large part of the railroad, set fire to the station and burnt a large schooner.

FORTRESS MONROE, March 19.

Segar is elected to congress by 130 to 140 majority.

A flag of truce was sent out to-day, but no news was received from the south. By order of Gen. Wool, the boat's crew were not permitted to receive any southern newspapers, and consequently the press is cut off from the supply heretofore drawn.

The steamer Rhode Island arrived from Key West yesterday evening, with mails, and sailed immediately for New York. Yancey was captured a day or two since, on board a schooner which was trying to run the blockade. He was dressed in sailor costume, but was recognized by one of the newspaper correspondents. St. Marys, Florida, has been occupied by our forces.

It has been discovered that the telegraph cable was cut about 10 miles from the eastern shore. A man has been arrested who is supposed to have been the culprit. An example will be made of him.

A Slight Cold, Cough, Hoarseness or Sore Throat, which might be checked with a simple remedy, if neglected, often terminates seriously. Few are aware of the importance of stopping a Cough or Slight Cold in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if not attended to, soon attacks the lungs. Brown's Bronchial Troches were first introduced eleven years ago. The Mutual Life Insurance Company

STATE OF WISCONSIN,

Presents advantages in all respects equal, and in some superior, to those of other companies doing business in the northwest. Its rates, its plan of operations, and its basis, are identical with the best companies in this country and Europe. Its age, and consequently its accumulations, are not equal to theirs in amount, but in proportion to the age of risks, and amount at risk, they will compare favorably with the most successful.

Its assets, which have resulted solely from the accumulations of three years, amount to $86,881.20, and its annual income, from policies now in force, over $65,000.

Its assets and business are constantly increasing. Its losses have been promptly paid. Its trustees are well known, honorable business men, and are as capable of managing an institution of this kind, as men in any other portion of the United States. The experience of the company thus far proves that we can have as reliable companies in the west as any where else, if we will, and self-interest certainly indicates that we should have them, and build up home interests in every practicable way. In the above respects, this company claims equality with its co-workers, and in the following superiority: It obtains the greater portion of its business in the healthiest portion of the United States, thus having the advantage of a less per centage of loss: it receives higher rates of interest on its investments, thus making more rapid accumulations—both very important items in Life Insurance; and its expenses have been less in proportion to its business than any other new company doing business in the United States.

The Right Course.

We are pleased to see our friends throughout the county calling republican caucuses to nominate town officers.—"Unionism" as exhibited in the assembly of this state is as bad as the old-fashioned pro-slavery democracy. We can no where find the democratic party favoring "Union tickets" where that party is in the ascendency. That piece of generosity is expected only from republicans, and when a republican ticket is beaten by such means there always comes up a shout of democratic triumph.

To Teachers.

In answer to many inquiries in relation to the forthcoming examination, notices of which are posted throughout the county, I would say:

1st. Applicants for certificates can attend any examination most convenient of access without regard to boundary lines or inspection districts.

2d. All teachers intending to teach summer schools, should be present at the public examination, as the legislature will probably, some time in April next, annul certificates given by town superintendents.

3d. As the law contemplates that all pass a public examination at the stated times and places, none will be examined otherwise, except in cases of unavoidable necessity.

THE FIRST CAVALRY.—A former resident of this city, writing from Chicago, says—"The 1st cavalry of Wisconsin, Col. Daniels, is pronounced to be as fine, if not the best regiment that has yet passed thro' this city. People all here give the banner to Wisconsin for splendid men. Col. D's regiment made a fine appearance. No news here, except a late arrival of prisoners and 1500 more on the way here."

A GOOD THING IN PROSPECT.—The Chicago Journal of last evening says—"Major Kinzie, United States paymaster, has just received funds with which to pay off the troops in his district, comprising the states of Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin."

☞ The President has appointen Wm. H. Upham, of this state, a cadet at West Point.

DEATH OF MYRON H. ORTON.—Myron H. Orton died in Madison yesterday.

HOW THE THING RUNS.—A call has been issued in Madison for a democratic convention to nominate city officers. There is no letting up on party nominations by the "democracy" where that party has a majority.

SIXTEENTH REGIMENT.—The 16th Wisconsin regiment has been ordered to report to Gen. Grant, at Fort Henry.

THE WAR BILLS.—The Madison Patriot publishes in full two of the war bills which have been paid in Madison. One is a livery bill rendered by Dorn & Brownell, incurred by Quartermaster Paine of the 2d regiment, between the 25th of April and the 12th of May, (18 days) and amounts to $67.50. It was allowed at $50. On the 5th of May Mr. Paine has charged to him $7.50. This charge embraces a saddle horse $2, horse and buggy $2, team, carriage and driver $2, horse and buggy $1.50. Several items are for a saddle horse one day $3 each day.

The Patriot also says:

On the 29th of June a bill for similar services, not certified to by anybody, and appearing to be ordered by nobody, was allowed at $100. On the back of same we find this endorsement:

"June 29th, 1861.
This bill to be audited at $100.
[Signed,] A. W. RANDALL."

A bill of $42.75 for medical books furnished to Dr. Wilbur of the 5th regiment was not certified to by any body, but was paid by the paymaster.

George Thompson, the English abolitionist, while lecturing in England, stopped one night with a Quaker family:

"The Quakers, it is known, are too staid to permit music in their sect, believing it a profitless amusement, indulged in by the world's people. Mr. Thompson is fond of music, and is something of a singer. During the evening he sang "Oft in the Stilly Night," which was listened to with rapt attention by the family. In the morning, after Mr. Thompson came from his chamber, the matron of the house appeared uneasy. She wished to hear the song again, but it would hardly do for her, a Quakeress, to request its repetition. At last, her desires getting the better of her, she ventured to say, 'George, will thee repeat the words of last evening in thy usual manner?'"

BIVOUAC.—This word is commonly but incorrectly regarded as of French origin. Its form is French, but it comes from the German, bewachen, to watch, or be on guard. The true meaning of it is often lost sight of, for whereas it correctly applies only to those who pass the night under arms or in attitude of defence, it is frequently used of any encamping and passing the night in the open air.

Miss Dix writes from Washington to Mrs. Harrison Gray Otis of Boston: "The indignities and sufferings to which our prisoners of war have been subjected at the hands of the enemy would disgrace the coarsest and most brutal savage tribes. May God forgive the perpetrators of those monstrous atrocities, for it is hard for man to pray sincerely for such enemies as these have proved."

Those who give willingly, love to give at once, without urging.

Legislative.

WEDNESDAY, March 19th.

SENATE.—Senator Quentin introduced a resolution for referring the matter of taxation to a joint committee, and to take a recess until the 25th of May. Senator Hopkins introduced a resolution to refer to the committee on finance in the senate, and the committee on ways and means in the assembly, with instructions to report as soon as practicable. Both resolutions lie over till to-morrow. Senator West introduced a bill to postpone the publication of the delinquent tax list, for 1861, until September. Several local bills were passed, but none of special public interest. A resolution requesting the state geologist to deposit all specimens collected in this state with the committee on state affairs was adopted.

ASSEMBLY.—More petitions for relief of farm mortgagors. Among the bills introduced was one from the majority of a select committee, to appropriate some $15,000 to publishers of the Patriot, on their printing claim. The judiciary committee reported against suspending the advertising of delinquent lands on account of the recent decision of the supreme court, holding that it does not affect the taxes since 1859. A number of local and private bills were passed over the governor's veto. A large number of local bills were passed, among them one for the relief of the Rock County Agricultural Society.

Town of Harmony.

J. M. BURGESS, Postmaster.

The Right Course.

We are pleased to see our friends throughout the county calling republican caucuses to nominate town officers.—"Unionism" as exhibited in the assembly of this state is as bad as the old-fashioned pro-slavery democracy. We can no where find the democratic party favoring "Union tickets" where that party is in the ascendency. That piece of generosity is expected only from republicans, and when a republican ticket is beaten by such means there always comes up a shout of democratic triumph.

To Teachers.

In answer to many inquiries in relation to the forthcoming examination, notices of which are posted throughout the county, I would say:

1st. Applicants for certificates can attend any examination most convenient of access without regard to boundary lines or inspection districts.

2d. All teachers intending to teach summer schools, should be present at the public examination, as the legislature will probably, some time in April next, annul certificates given by town superintendents.

3d. As the law contemplates that all pass a public examination at the stated times and places, none will be examined otherwise, except in cases of unavoidable necessity.

THE FIRST CAVALRY.—A former resident of this city, writing from Chicago, says—"The 1st cavalry of Wisconsin, Col. Daniels, is pronounced to be as fine, if not the best regiment that has yet passed thro' this city. People all here give the banner to Wisconsin for splendid men. Col. D's regiment made a fine appearance. No news here, except a late arrival of prisoners and 1500 more on the way here."

A GOOD THING IN PROSPECT.—The Chicago Journal of last evening says—"Major Kinzie, United States paymaster, has just received funds with which to pay off the troops in his district, comprising the states of Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin."

☞ The President has appointen Wm. H. Upham, of this state, a cadet at West Point.

DEATH OF MYRON H. ORTON.—Myron H. Orton died in Madison yesterday.

HOW THE THING RUNS.—A call has been issued in Madison for a democratic convention to nominate city officers. There is no letting up on party nominations by the "democracy" where that party has a majority.

SIXTEENTH REGIMENT.—The 16th Wisconsin regiment has been ordered to report to Gen. Grant, at Fort Henry.

THE WAR BILLS.—The Madison Patriot publishes in full two of the war bills which have been paid in Madison. One is a livery bill rendered by Dorn & Brownell, incurred by Quartermaster Paine of the 2d regiment, between the 25th of April and the 12th of May, (18 days) and amounts to $67.50. It was allowed at $50. On the 5th of May Mr. Paine has charged to him $7.50. This charge embraces a saddle horse $2, horse and buggy $2, team, carriage and driver $2, horse and buggy $1.50. Several items are for a saddle horse one day $3 each day.

The Patriot also says:

On the 29th of June a bill for similar services, not certified to by anybody, and appearing to be ordered by nobody, was allowed at $100. On the back of same we find this endorsement:

"June 29th, 1861.
This bill to be audited at sight.
[Signed,] A. W. RANDALL"

A bill of $42.75 for medical books furnished to Dr. Wilbur of the 5th regiment was not certified to by any body, but was paid by the paymaster.

George Thompson, the English abolitionist, while lecturing in England, stopped one night with a Quaker family:

"The Quakers, it is known, are too staid to permit music in their sect, believing it a profitless amusement, indulged in by the world's people. Mr. Thompson is fond of music, and is something of a singer. During the evening he sang "Oft in the Stilly Night," which was listened to with rapt attention by the family. In the morning, after Mr. Thompson came from his chamber, the matron of the house appeared uneasy. She wished to hear the song again, but it would hardly do for her, a Quakeress, to request its repetition. At last, her desires getting the better of her, she ventured to say, 'George, will thee repeat the words of last evening in thy usual manner?'"

BIVOUAC.—This word is commonly but incorrectly regarded as of French origin. Its form is French, but it comes from the German, bewachen, to watch, or be on guard. The true meaning of it is often lost sight of, for whereas it correctly applies only to those who pass the night under arms or in attitude of defence, it is frequently used of any encamping and passing the night in the open air.

Miss Dix writes from Washington to Mrs. Harrison Gray Otis of Boston: "The indignities and sufferings to which our prisoners of war have been subjected at the hands of the enemy would disgrace the coarsest and most brutal savage tribes. May God forgive the perpetrators of those monstrous atrocities, for it is hard for man to pray sincerely for such enemies as these have proved."

Those who give willingly, love to give at once, without urging.

Legislative.

WEDNESDAY, March 19th.

SENATE.—Senator Quentin introduced a resolution for referring the matter of taxation to a joint committee, and to take a recess until the 25th of May. Senator Hopkins introduced a resolution to refer to the committee on finance in the senate, and the committee on ways and means in the assembly, with instructions to report as soon as practicable. Both resolutions lie over till to-morrow. Senator West introduced a bill to postpone the publication of the delinquent tax list, for 1861, until September. Several local bills were passed, but none of special public interest. A resolution requesting the state geologist to deposit all specimens collected in this state with the committee on state affairs was adopted.

ASSEMBLY.—More petitions for relief of farm mortgagors. Among the bills introduced was one from the majority of a select committee, to appropriate some $15,000 to publishers of the Patriot, on their printing claim. The judiciary committee reported against suspending the advertising of delinquent lands on account of the recent decision of the supreme court, holding that it does not affect the taxes since 1859. A number of local and private bills were passed over the governor's veto. A large number of local bills were passed, among them one for the relief of the Rock County Agricultural Society.

Cephalic Pills
CURE
Sick Headache
CURE
Nervous Headache
CURE
All kinds of Headache.

By the use of these pills the periodic attacks of Nervous or Sick Headache may be prevented; and if taken at the commencement of an attack immediate relief from pain and sickness will be obtained.

They seldom fail in removing Nausea and Headache to which females are so subject.

They act gently upon the bowels—removing Costiveness.

For Literary Men, Students, delicate Females, and all persons of sedentary habits, they are valuable as a Laxative, improving the appetite, giving tone and vigor to the digestive organs, and restoring the natural elasticity and strength of the whole system.

The CEPHALIC PILLS are the result of long investigation and carefully conducted experiments, having been in use many years, during which time they have prevented and relieved a vast amount of pain and suffering from headache, whether originating in the nervous system or from a deranged state of the stomach.

They are entirely vegetable in their composition, and may be taken at all times with perfect safety without making any change of diet, and the absence of any disagreeable taste renders it easy to administer them to children.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!

The genuine have five signatures of Henry C. Spalding on each box.

Sold by Druggists and all other dealers in Medicines.

A box will be sent by mail prepaid on receipt of the

A Great National Work.
Something for Every Citizen, Every Fireside,
Every Reader!
NO MAN, NO FAMILY, NO OFFICE SHOULD BE WITHOUT IT.
The only Correct and Complete
HISTORY OF THE WAR.
THE SOUTHERN REBELLION
and the
WAR FOR THE UNION:
A History of the Rise and Progress of the Rebellion,
and
Consecutive Narrative of Events and Incidents, from the First Stages of the Treason Against the Republic down to the Close of the Conflict,
TOGETHER WITH IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS AND EXTRACTS FROM REMARKABLE SPEECHES.
In Weekly Parts, 32 pages, large 8vo, Price 10 Cents.

THE want of an authentic and thorough History of the Rebellion, for present reference and future preservation, is the subject of general remark. No work of that nature has yet been offered to the public, and all who wish for information are compelled to grope through the mazes of the rumors, reports, dispatches, letters and editorials of the daily newspapers, to precipitate, from its confused columns, the great facts and incidents of the struggle for the Union.

To meet this want, and to produce a work of permanent value as well as of present interest, the publisher has arranged for the issue of the history as above set forth—in a form and at a price which shall render it acceptable to all.

This history will tell the STORY AS IT IS, giving a clear, consecutive narrative of the entire movement, including all the incidents and events in their exact order, and containing the important documents and extracts from remarkable speeches. It will not be a mere diary, nor a mere enumeration of dry and naked dates, nor a compilation of slips from newspapers, but will portray in connected and interesting narrative, the revolutionary steps, as well as the measures of the government.

It will carefully digest all evidence—will sift all rumors and reports—will fix upon facts, and correct so far as possible the errors and discrepancies incident to the hasty narratives of the newspapers.

It will be written in a style suited to its theme—at once graphic, earnest and luminous, introducing such personal and social incidents as may serve to show the relations of individuals and communities to the grand events of the time.

It is true, everybody reads the newspapers, but the reports of the newspapers are the fugitive and contradictory children of the moment, and not a correct, connected and complete history. The above publication, afterwards bound in a handsome volume, will be a book for the family, which will be valued like the records of the War of Independence, or the Life of Washington, and worthy to be kept for children and grand-children, as a memorial of the present time

It will thus prove desirable, available and satisfactory to every citizen, every family, every office, every library: and is given to the public in the full assurance that it will command the approbation of every patriot, every Union man, every good citizen in our still Glorious Land.

The only Correct and Complete

HISTORY OF THE WAR.

THE SOUTHERN REBELLION

and the

WAR FOR THE UNION;

A History of the

Rise and Progress of the Rebellion,

and

Consecutive Narrative of Events and Incidents, from the First Stages of the Treason Against the Republic down to the Close of the Conflict,

TOGETHER WITH IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS AND EXTRACTS FROM REMARKABLE SPEECHES.

In Weekly Parts, 32 pages, large 8vo, Price 10 Cents.

THE want of an authentic and thorough History of the Rebellion, for present reference and future preservation, is the subject of general remark. No work of that nature has yet been offered to the public, and all who wish for information are compelled to grope through the mazes of the rumors, reports, dispatches, letters and editorials of the daily newspapers, to precipitate, from its confused columns, the great facts and incidents of the struggle for the Union.

To meet this want, and to produce a work of permanent value as well as of present interest, the publisher has arranged for the issue of the history as above set forth—in a form and at a price which shall render it acceptable to all.

This history will tell the STORY AS IT IS, giving a clear, consecutive narrative of the entire movement, including all the incidents and events in their exact order, and containing the important documents and extracts from remarkable speeches. It will not be a mere diary, nor a mere enumeration of dry and naked dates, nor a compilation of slips from newspapers, but will portray in connected and interesting narrative, the revolutionary steps, as well as the measures of the government.

It will carefully digest all evidence—will sift all rumors and reports—will fix upon facts, and correct so far as possible the errors and discrepancies incident to the hasty narratives of the newspapers.

It will be written in a style suited to its theme—at once graphic, earnest and luminous, introducing such personal and social incidents as may serve to show the relations of individuals and communities to the grand events of the time.

It is true, everybody reads the newspapers, but the reports of the newspapers are the fragmentary and contradictory children of the moment, and not a correct, connected and complete history. The above publication, afterwards bound in a handsome volume, will be a book for the family, which will be valued like the records of the War of Independence, or the Life of Washington, and worthy to be kept for children and grandchildren, as a memorial of the present time.

It will thus prove desirable, available and satisfactory to every citizen, every family, every office, every library; and is given to the public in the full assurance that it will command the approbation of every patriot, every Union man, every good citizen in our still Glorious Land.
